RUSSIAN SHIP

WILL DISARM

TAKEN IN CUSTODY BY UNITED STATES

Order to That Effect Issued by President—Russian Government Willing to Comply With Conditions.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Acting Secretary of State Adee to day gave out the following statement regarding the Russian ship Lema, now at San Francisco:

"The president has to day issued an order through the acting secretary of state directing the Russian armed transport Lema, now at San Francisco, be taken in custody by naval authorities of the United States and disarmed. In the main conditions prescribed are that the Lema be taken to Mare Island navy yard and there disarmed by removal of small arms, breech blocks of large guns, small arms, ammunition and ordnance stores and such other dismantlement as may be prescribed by the captain of the navy yard; that the captain give written guarantee that the Lema shall not leave San Francisco until peace shall be concluded; that the officers and crew shall be paroled not to leave San Francisco until some other understanding as to their disposal may be reached between the United States government and both belligerents; that after disarmament the vessel may be removed to a private dock for such reasonable repairs as will make her seaworthy and preserve her in good condition during her detention, or may be so repaired at the navy yard if the Russian commander should so elect; that while at private dock the commandant of the navy yard at Mare Island shall have custody of the ship and repairs shall be overseen by an engineer officer to be detailed by the commandant, and that when so repaired, if peace shall not then have been concluded, the vessel shall be taken back to Mare Island navy yards and be there held in custody until the end of the war.

This action has been taken upon written request of the commander of the Lema addressed to Rear Admiral Goodrich, setting forth that as the vessel is incapable of putting to sea without needful repairs she must disarm and asking that needful repairs be permitted after disarmament.

The secretary of the navy has telegraphed the president's order to San Francisco and given instructions to Admiral Goodrich and to Captain McCall, commandant of Mare Island navy yard, to carry out its provisions.

Washington, Sept. 15.—Captain Berlinsky, commanding the Russian Lema at San Francisco, has informed Rear Admiral Goodrich he desires to dismantle his ship and has asked as to the extent to which this dismantlement should be made. Goodrich has called on the navy department for instructions on this point and details are now being worked out.

This afternoon Acting Secretary Adee received a telegram from the president at Oyster Bay approving the program he had arranged concerning the Lema and instructions were immediately telegraphed to Admiral Goodrich at San Francisco to tie up the ship. Disposition of the crew will be arranged for later.

RUSSIA WILLING.
San Francisco, Sept. 15.—Captain Berlinsky of the Lema left his vessel to day on his steam launch and went down the bay to visit Admiral Goodrich of the flagship New York. The captain was informed of the president's decision to permit the Lema to remain here on condition she would send her guns ashore. He in turn communicated to Admiral Goodrich his own government's willingness to comply with the conditions and final agreement was made. It is understood to have the Lema go to Mare Island, in accordance with plans said to have been provisionally decided on yesterday when Berlinsky went with the Russian consul to visit Admiral Goodrich.

The crew is confident they will be permitted to return to Russia by way of New York. The officers have purchased civilian dress in anticipation of the journey. Meantime a strict guard is kept on the ship and all boats going or coming from her must report to the officer on the deck of the torpedo boat destroyer Paul Jones. Even the Lema's own launches are not permitted to pass without this formality.

The United States cruiser Boston left port to night with no intimation of her destination being given out. It is surmised she may be sent to discover if any Russian or Japanese vessels are near this harbor, as has been rumored from various sources.

PROTECTED NEGRO.
Thomasville, Ga., Sept. 15.—Three companies of militia surrounded the court house to day during the trial of the negro Whitley Willford for the murder of Hannan West at Bacontown April 20, 1903. Willford was convicted and sentenced to hang.

HEAVY FIRE LOSS

Damage to Extent of Half Million at Halifax—Dynamite Checks Flames.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 15.—A fortunate shift of the wind saved Halifax from destruction by fire to day. Nevertheless the city suffered a loss of $500,000 in the business part of the waterfront and progress of the flames was only stayed by dynamiting of a dozen buildings by sailors from the fleet and soldiers from the garrison. The fire raged until 7 o'clock to night, when 200 sailors with torpedo apparatus and with the assistance of 200 troops from the garrison checked its progress by removing, with the aid of dynamite, a dozen small buildings. The fire consumed six wharves, two coal piers, two hotels, a dozen warehouses and a number of retail shops.

THE BANKERS.

New York, Sept. 15.—Western bankers had the floor at to day's session of the American Bankers' association. The first speaker was Andrew J. Frame, of Waukegan, Wis., who read a paper on "Panic Panaceas," which dealt at length with the problem of emergency circulation.

W. C. Robinson, of Winfield, Kan., followed with an address on "The Western Bankers."

Among the candidates named by the convention are: For president, E. F. Swinney, Kansas City; vice president, John L. Hamilton, Hoopeston, Ill.

State delegates nominated the members of the executive committee. Among them are T. J. Fletcher, cashier First National bank, Marshalltown, Iowa, and William George, president of Illinois Bankers' association, Aurora, Ill.

BRIDGE DISASTER

Structure Caught Fire and Collapsed When People Attempted to Cross—Two Killed.

Stillwater, Minn., Sept. 15.—A bridge across Lake St. Croix, which is half a mile long, extending to the Wisconsin side caught fire this afternoon. The fire had so weakened one of the spans that when the fire apparatus and crowd of people attempted to cross it fell into the water twenty feet below. Twenty persons were precipitated with the wreckage into the water. Two were killed and five seriously injured. The dead: Adolph Boe, aged 22; George McGrath, 16. Probably fatally injured, Ray French.

LABOR LEADER INDICTED.

PULLMAN SHOPS CLOSED DOWN.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—The immense Pullman car works were shut down for an indefinite period to day and 7,000 employees are idle. Officials of the company are reticent about the cause leading to closing of the shops, but intimate it is due to lack of work and high wages paid.

BANK ROBBER SHOT AND KILLED.

Coshocton, Ohio, Sept. 15.—Alva Rivers was instantly killed while robbing the Bank of Warsaw last night by the village marshal. His two companions escaped.

NEW ANTI-MORMON PARTY.

Salt Lake, Utah, Sept. 15.—Permanent organization of the new American party, whose avowed purpose is to oppose alleged interference of the Mormon church in politics, was effected at a mass meeting here last night. The meeting was largely attended by men of all political beliefs.

DISASTROUS FIRE AT HALIFAX.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 15.—A disastrous fire is raging along the river front, fanned by a gale and beyond control of the firemen. All shipping has been removed from the wharves in the vicinity of the fire and soldiers are assisting the fire department.

BISMARCK'S CONDITION.

Friedrichshagen, Sept. 15.—The condition of Prince Bismarck is unchanged.

NO FIGHTING

IN MANCHURIA

MONTH MAY ELAPSE BEFORE ANOTHER BATTLE

Spirit of Russian Troops at Mukden Has Been Restored—Next Conflict May Occur at Port Arthur.

There has been no renewal of fighting since the retreat of the Russian army under Kuropatkin to Mukden. Conditions there of both Japanese and Russian lines indicate that a month may elapse before the great armies in central Manchuria again enter upon a general engagement.

At St. Petersburg the expectation is that the next conflict of moment will occur at Port Arthur, where there has been a respite from heavy fighting for several weeks.

The spirit of the Russian troops at Mukden, which was greatly depressed and bordering upon panic following the reverse at Liao Yang, has been restored and the city is reported to be recovering.

The Japanese are said to be entrenching on the Taisie river and the bridge over that stream which the Russians wrecked as they retreated from Liao Yang has been rebuilt.

LESS ENEMY.

Mukden, via St. Petersburg, Sept. 15.—The panic conditions prevailing immediately after the battle of Liao Yang have entirely disappeared from the Russian army now concentrated here. Business has been resumed and the city is quiet. The failure of the Japanese to follow up the advantage gained at Liao Yang has caused surprise here. An independent authority who accompanied the rear guard from positions south of Liao Yang to Mukden says this failure is accounted for by the fact that the Japanese lost 40,000 killed and wounded in one day's fighting and that besides they were too tired to continue the advance.

ANOTHER RUSSIAN SHIP.

Victoria, Sept. 15.—Members of the crew of the British ship Gratia, just arrived from Coma, report the presence of the Russian armed auxiliary vessel Korea in the Pacific off the northern coast of Vancouver Island, steaming slowly southward. They expect the Korea will come to Esquimalt or Victoria. She is described as a larger vessel than the Lema and is commanded by an officer of high rank in the Russian navy. The news has caused much excitement at Esquimalt, where preparations to deal with her case, should she enter, are now being made.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 15.—A dispatch from St. Petersburg says Japanese are actively constructing fortifications on Samon mountain and at other points; that they continue to bombard forts and harbor and on Sept. 2 they threw 350 shells into the town. Japanese have issued a proclamation to Russian troops demanding their surrender.

Nagasaki, Sept. 15.—A British sailing vessel, supposed to be the bark Leulu, struck a mine recently off Port Arthur. One person on board was rescued. It is considered probable the vessel was running the blockade.

Mukden, Sept. 14.—(Delayed.)—Everything is quiet here. The Japanese have retired southward and it is even reported they have evacuated Yentai. Belief prevails here the full may continue for several weeks.

According to Chinese advices evacuation of Liao Yang by the Japanese has been forced owing to the fearful stench arising from dead bodies. Japanese were to day (Wednesday) fortifying approaches by way of the river.

WAR REPORTS.

St. Petersburg, Sept. 15.—Kuropatkin telegraphs that there was no fighting Wednesday. He says a strong detachment of Japanese infantry have advanced three miles north of Yentai station.

Attention is turning toward Port Arthur, where, as General Stoessel's latest report indicates, Japanese are gathering strength for another spring at the fortress. It is taken for granted here that there will soon be news of importance from Port Arthur, since the Japanese throughout the war have seemed to alternate their attempts between the beleaguered fortress and the Russian army toward the north.

SHEEP BUTCHERS STILL OUT.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—Because of alleged discrimination against them at the stock yards, sheep butchers have decided to remain on strike.

ALL PACKING HOUSES EXCEPT Armour are Alleged to be Discriminating.

MOTION DENIED.

Minneapolis, Sept. 15.—Judge Harrison to day denied the motion made by County Attorney Boardman to nolle ten indictments standing against former Mayor Ames for bribery and corruption.

BUBONIC PLAGUE.

Asuncion, Paraguay, Sept. 15.—Several cases of bubonic plague have appeared here. It is feared the epidemic is more serious than on previous occasions because of the presence of a large number of troops.

REPUBLICAN EDITORS

Rousing Addresses Made at Meeting in Decatur—Letter From Horace Chapin.

Decatur, Ill., Sept. 14. Dear Journal: Through your courtesy a feast without any alloy has come to me to day in being permitted to share in the exercises of the "Illinois Republican Editorial Association," which met here to day in annual session.

After the introductory exercises a paper of great historical value was read by Gen. Smith D. Atkins, of the Freeport Journal, in which he gave a clear history of the events occurring in the history of our country prior to the special event, viz: Events of 1856 to 1890, which the gathering was here to celebrate. Events leading up to the nomination of Abraham Lincoln for president. No synopsis can give it justice. I hope you can find space to print it entire.

Letters of regret were read from Theodore Roosevelt and Senator Fairbanks for not being able to be present.

The afternoon exercises were made very interesting by lengthy papers from Paul Selby, a veteran editor, well known by many of your readers, and by Hon. B. F. Shaw, of Dixon, Ill. These papers bore upon the formation of the Republican party in Illinois, and these were followed by an address by Hon. W. B. Jewell, who gave us a humorous and witty talk on what the Republican party had accomplished. A pleasant street car excursion about the city was given the association, showing the growth and prosperity of the city since the convention of 1890.

By invitation of President Taylor, of the university, the guests were shown over the grounds and buildings of the university of this city, a plant which Decatur may justly be proud of.

In the evening the association and a large gathering of citizens were entertained on the subjects of national and state politics by Senators Shelby M. Cullom and Albert J. Hopkins, and L. V. Sherman, our candidate for lieutenant governor.

DAMAGE BY STORM

Wind and Rain Cause Much Property Loss at New York—Crew of Tug Lost.

New York, Sept. 15.—A storm of wind and rain of almost unprecedented violence raged over New York and vicinity last night, causing damage to property both on sea and shore. No loss of lives is known to have resulted.

Ample warning of the coming storm had been given by the weather bureau and few coastwise craft ventured to sea yesterday. Two fishing schooners are ashore at Coney Island point and many small craft are lying on the beach all along the shore.

In the city and suburbs hundreds of windows were broken, cellars and streets flooded and trees uprooted. The storm did considerable damage in New Jersey and Philadelphia. A tugboat has been sunk in the Delaware river, but the fate of the crew of seven is unknown.

NINE DROWNED IN DELAWARE.

Wilmington, Sept. 15.—The tugboat Isreal W. Durham, of Philadelphia, sunk during the storm last night in the Delaware river and five of the crew, including the captain, and four employees of the American Dredging company drowned.

PRISONERS RELEASED.

Lhasa, Tibet, Sept. 10, via Gyantse, Sept. 15.—According to a treaty between the British and Tibetans, signed Sept. 7, prisoners on both sides were released to day. The occasion afforded a picturesque ceremony. Some of the prisoners released by the Tibetans had been in captivity over twenty years. One old man who had been kept in a dark dungeon had gone blind. He at first refused to credit the fact he was being given his freedom and thought he was being led out for torture.

THE REDMEN.

St. Joseph, Mo., Sept. 15.—The Redmen's convention closed to night. Great Incipones Watts announced a number of appointments. Among committee members were: Finance, Phil J. Hanswirth, Illinois; revision of laws, Fred C. Temple, Michigan; Redmen's league, James R. Wilson, Illinois; orphans' fund, Edwin D. Wiley, Iowa. The finance committee reported a balance of $10,000 in the treasury.

GAVE UP THE HUNT.

Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 15.—Officers at Winfield have given up the hunt for the Rock Island train robbers. The suspects have eluded their hunters successfully so far.

FIREMEN INJURED.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—The sudden collapse of a wall to night knocked down nearly every member of a fire company fighting a fire in a building at Flournoy street and Western avenue. All were more or less injured.

FROST REPORTED.

Bloomington, Sept. 15.—There was frost in central Illinois last night, but it is believed only slight damage was done to corn. Vegetables were blighted.

EMPIRE STATE

REPUBLICANS

UNANIMOUSLY NOMINATE A TICKET

Frank W. Higgins Selected Candidate for Governor—Woodruff Withdraws at Last Moment.

Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Sept. 15.—The Republican state convention adjourned at 2:30 p. m. to day after nominating unanimously the following ticket:

Governor—Frank W. Higgins, Cattaraugus. Lieutenant governor—M. L. Bruce, New York. Secretary of state—John R. O'Brien, Clinton.

Attorney general—Julius M. Mayer, New York. Comptroller—Otto Kelsey, Livingston.

Treasurer—John G. Wallenmiller, Erie. State engineer and surveyor—Henry A. Van Alstyne, Columbia.

Chief judge of appeals—Edgar M. Cullen (Dem.), Kings. Associate judge court of appeals—William R. Warner (Rep.), Monroe.

The unanimous action of the convention in nominating Higgins for the governorship was made possible by the withdrawal of former Lieut. Gov. Timothy Woodruff at the very last moment as the convention was preparing for roll call. Woodruff took the platform, withdrew his name and moved the nomination of Higgins be made unanimous and pledged the fullest effort of himself and his Kings county forces to aid the ticket. There was no contest whatever over any other place upon the ticket.

CANNON OPENS INDIANA CAMPAIGN

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 15.—Speaker Cannon opened the campaign here to night, addressing an immense audience. He discussed at length various issues of the campaign, but devoted his special attention to tariff and trusts, contending with reference to the former that the Republican policy of protection is the only safe safeguard of American interests, and concerning the latter, that the action of the president is an unmistakable index of the attitude of the Republican party.

He said that under the leadership of Roosevelt "the party and the country have followed in the footsteps of William McKinley. The law has been enforced. The interstate commerce and anti-trust laws have been amended and strengthened. The Alaskan boundary has been settled according to the contentions of the United States. Reciprocity with Cuba has been enacted under our policy and against the opposition of the party in the minority. The gold standard, with anti legislation to maintain it, has been established by the Republican party against the opposition of the minority. The anthracite coal strike has been settled by arbitration on suggestion of the president of the United States. The isthmian canal is in process of construction under the wise leadership of the Republican party. The Hague tribunal has been created for the peaceful settlement of differences among the nations of the earth. The only two cases sent to that tribunal were sent on the advice and suggestion of Roosevelt, our president. And yet the opposition denounces him as an imperialist. They fear he will rush the country into war. They forget that since he became president under the law, in exercise of his discretion, the army has been reduced from 100,000 to 50,000 men."

NEW JERSEY DEMOCRATS.

Trouton, N. J., Sept. 15.—Charles C. Black, of Hudson county, was nominated for governor to day by the Democratic state convention. The convention also named twelve presidential electors and adopted a platform devoted almost entirely to state affairs.

PLANS FOR ILLINOIS.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—The plans of the Democratic national committee with respect to the situation in Illinois were divulged to day. It appears that the report that a western branch of the national committee will be established here on arrival of Chairman Taggart Monday is incorrect, but the statement is vouched for that the state committee will be made a special agency of the national committee and treated as a western branch for the purposes of the campaign in Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana.

PARKER IN NEW YORK.

New York, Sept. 15.—Judge Parker to day conferred with more than a score of prominent party leaders. Important matters relating to the campaign which may reorganize methods now in operation, letters of acceptance of the Democratic candidates and discussion of a slate for New York state were included in the business under discussion.

SENATOR FORAKER.

Charlton, Iowa, Sept. 15.—Senator Foraker of Ohio was the chief speaker at the Republican rally held here to day. His address was chiefly a defense of the administration's Philippine policy. Congressman Hepburn was also a speaker.

GOES TO IOWA.

Bloomington, Sept. 15.—Prof. O. B. Clark, Burka college, Eureka, Ill., has accepted the professorship of history at Drake university, Des Moines.

ST. LOUIS DAY

Business Suspended and Great Parade Held in World's Fair City in Honor of Event.

St. Louis, Sept. 15.—St. Louis day, the most imposing of all special days in the history of the Louisiana Purchase exposition, was celebrated to day. Business was generally suspended in St. Louis. The opening event was a parade in which it is estimated 50,000 regulars, national guardsmen and uniformed civilian societies participated and were reviewed by Major General Bates, President Francis and other exposition officials and Mayor Wells. Soldiers from all over the country were in line. This was followed by exercises in the Plaza of St. Louis, drills by various organizations, sports and band concerts.

The largest assemblage of people ever congregated within the confines of St. Louis thronged the world's fair grounds on account of "St. Louis Day." The exact number of admissions are not known, but estimates place the number in the neighborhood of 500,000.

Secretary Stevens was more conservative in his estimate and said he was confident at least 385,000 persons were in the grounds to day.

Reading, Mass., Sept. 15.—Considering the immense eddy of rain in the morning, the track was in very good shape for the races in the afternoon. LETTER FROM FOLLOWERS OF LAFOLETTE

Pledge Themselves to Abide by Decision of National Convention Unless It is Reversed by the Supreme Court.

Milwaukee, Sept. 15.—Pledging themselves to abide by the decision of the Republican national convention, unless it is reversed by the supreme court, 17 of LaFollette's followers signed a letter which they have sent to Chairman Cartwright of the national committee. They declare that all questions affecting the unity and regularity of the party must necessarily be submitted to the highest political tribunal for settlement and that such settlement will be accepted by all good Republicans, unless it is found at variance with the decision of the court.

The letter denounces the untruthful reports that a considerable number of Wisconsin Republicans are deserting the party under the belief that the party is under the baneful influence of corporate wealth and had drifted away from the old principles of Lincoln and his compatriots and that they seek a new alignment of political parties. The letter assures Cartwright and through him President Roosevelt that he need not fear the loss of the electoral vote of Wisconsin.

Madison, Wis., Sept. 15.—Arguments in the Republican case before the supreme court continued all day and were not concluded when court adjourned until to morrow.

INNOCENT MAN KILLED

Determination of Boy to Avenge Alleged Assault on Sister Results in Murder.

Oskaloosa, Iowa, Sept. 15.—Jimmy Selbert, aged 17, this evening shot and killed a man named Nelson near Oskaloosa in a spirit of frenzied determination to avenge an alleged assault on his sister some months ago by Charles Carpenter. Carpenter, who is out on bonds pending a supreme court appeal for conviction of the unsolicited, drove into Selbert's farm yard this evening, accompanied by Nelson, an innocent farm hand. Selbert seized a shotgun and began firing at Carpenter, and his son, Jimmy Selbert, started after Nelson, who ran down the highway, where Carpenter eluded the farmer. The son overtook Nelson and shot him in the back twice, killing him. The boy was arrested.

LABORS OF REV. ALLEN TANNER

Will Locate at Edwardsville and Assist Large Manufacturer in Advancing Industrial Idea of "Golden Rule" Jones.

The following taken from a Toledo, Ohio, paper contains an account of the work of Rev. Allen Tanner, well known in this city:

People of Toledo have known for many months that a Congregationalist minister, Allen A. Tanner, was working in the shops of S. M. Jones Company, having resigned a pastorate to go to work as a machinist's helper.

Mr. Tanner's father was for many years a professor in Illinois college, and its president during the last ten years of his life. From this college Mr. Tanner was graduated with the degree of A. B. For a year after graduation he was a reporter on the Jackson Journal. He spent a year at Yale in the divinity school, and then went to the Chicago Theological seminary, from which he was graduated. While taking his theological course he found time to raise the money for a $15,000 gymnasium for the Illinois college and act as financial secretary for several months after his father's death.

His first "call" came from the First Congregational church of Pueblo, Col. It was accepted, and after a five years' pastorate Mr. Tanner was compelled to resign on account of the high altitude of the place. The next four years were spent as pastor of the First Congregational church of Waterloo, Iowa. Increasing interest in the labor problem, and the conviction that it was a Christian minister's duty to aid in its solution caused him to resign his position and come to Toledo to pursue sociological studies at first hand.

Asked to tell about his change, he said: "I obtained a position with the Co-operating Merchants' company and spent months with them as advertising man. I got a clearer insight into the commercial world than ever before, but I wanted to find out the actual status of the worker, so I got a job as machinist helper at the Jones shops, where I have been for the last year. Recently I have been studying another phase of the labor problem.

"You cannot understand the labor problem unless you understand the laborer. You can't understand him by reading about him in a library. The so-called upper classes distrust the worker because they do not know him.

"Many professors of sociology who are solving the labor problem by secluding themselves in the quiet retreat of a college classroom could profit by a post-graduate course in a machine shop, particularly were they compelled to live and support a family for a couple of years on their wages.

"My respect for the workman has increased immensely, not alone in point of his essential honesty and goodness but with the ability displayed in his work. The ordinary laborer is as truly an educated man as a college professor. It is only because of his inherited notions about education that we regard the matter otherwise.

"I believe in unions. Like other human institutions they do not reach their ideals but they are a necessary force in the present economic strife. They are among the greatest educational forces in this country. They may be wrong in time of strikes, but the wrong done is small indeed in comparison with the continuous wrongs done to them by the employing class.

"We are prone to magnify the little anarchist at the bottom of society and to overlook entirely the big anarchist at the top. We forget, too, that the last is the cause of the first.

"I think that the natural starting point for reform is to arouse a sentiment against inequality—a sentiment that will make it a disgrace for a man to live in ease and luxury at the expense of others living in poverty and want; just as it is now a disgrace to his parents or a brother who is poor.

"This was what made Mayor Jones so great a man; so far as he could he lived and practiced the equality in which he believed. We have to day too many men preaching equality and living in ease off the proceeds of their preaching."

Concerning Mayor Jones' plan of turning his factory into a Golden Rule trust to be operated by trustees, much as a college is managed, he said:

"I believe it would have been successful, because it seems to me one of the sanest social experiments ever planned. The mayor and I had, independently of each other, arrived at similar views on this point, and I had hoped to assist in working them out.

"I am still a minister. If not a regular clergyman, and have not a word against the man who feels it his duty to wear the cloth. I greatly enjoy, however, my new opportunities for learning and freedom in preaching the truth as I see it. The real Christianity is not only to preach the truth Jesus taught, but to live the life he lived."

In addition to daily work at the shops, Mr. Tanner has addressed the Sunday afternoon meetings at Golden Rule park, and every two weeks has spoken at the Toledo State hospital. From Chicago and other places he has had as many calls as he has found time to accept.

Mr. Tanner's "education in Toledo," as he puts it, has cost him considerable money, more than he has made, and necessitated many sacrifices, but he is satisfied with his experience, and feels that it has been worth while.

Mr. Tanner is soon to move to Edwardsville, Ill., to take up the same lines of investigation which he has followed in Toledo. Mr. Tanner will assist N. O. Nelson, a manufacturer, in what he is trying to accomplish at the village of LeClare, where some advanced theories of sociological and industrial improvements are being worked out. Mr. Tanner's work will be largely in the educational line.

The death of Mayor Jones interrupted many of the plans in the working out of which Mr. Tanner was associated with him in Toledo. Mr. Nelson was a warm friend of the mayor and sympathized with him in his efforts to solve the problem of right industrial relations. Thus Mr. Tanner, while changing the scene of his labors, does not break the continuity of his work.

MATINEE RACES

FREE FOR ALL PACE THE FEATURE THURSDAY

Darkness Prevents Finish—
Vandeventer and Buck Allen
Each Took Two Heats—The Other Events.

The matinee races of the Gentlemen's Driving club attracted a large crowd at the fair grounds Thursday afternoon. A good card was offered and the interest of the afternoon centered in the free-for-all pace with four entries: Buck Allen, owned by Frank Lohman; Vandeventer, owned by William Masters, of Pisgah; Big Billy, owned by M. Anderson, of Franklin, and Diamond Wilkes, owned by J. W. Woods & Co.

The quartet made a pretty field of starters and when they got the word they went away in fine fashion. Four heats were raced when darkness put a stop to the finish. Vandeventer and Buck Allen each had two heats and Big Billy and Diamond Wilkes were drawn. The race will be finished at 1:30 to day.

The three minute pace was won by Little Midget in straight heats and the two-thirty pace went to Cherry Blossom, after five stubbornly contested heats. The 2:30 trot did not finish on account of darkness. Watch Out won both heats and the race will be finished to day at 1:30 o'clock.

An attempt was made to pull off a running race that was not on the card, but was a failure, as of the three horses scheduled to start one entry was withdrawn on account of darkness, and one of the two horses that started jumped the fence on the back stretch, and Lizzie F., the third horse, came home an easy winner.

Jeffries' Concert band furnished a fine program of music during the afternoon and the matinee was one of the most successful held this season. Considering the condition of the track, which was slow owing to the recent rain, the time was good. The fastest heat of the afternoon was in the free-for-all pace, when the half was turned in 1:05 1/2.

Dr. J. W. Sperry acted as starter and the judges were Messrs. Hendon, Tompkins and Rafferty. The timers were Messrs. Beckman, J. G. Arnold and Clary.

The first race on the card was the 3:00 pace with three starters. Little Tanner (Bergschneider) drew the pole, Little Midget (Rutherford) was second and Jo Joe (Massey). They got the word on the second time down, but the start was poor. Little Midget took the pole at the first turn and came home in easy fashion in the time of 1:16 1/4. Little Tanner was second and Jo Joe was third. The last horse came down the stretch in fine style and was gaining on Little Tanner, but just before the wire went into a break and finished a half a length behind.

The second heat of the 3:00 pace was another victory for Little Midget, although Massey with Jo Joe made a splendid drive and was overtaking the brown mare on the third turn, when Jo Joe went up and fell back a length. Little Midget also went up and it was a hard drive down the stretch for place, Little Midget going under the wire a length and a half to the good. Little Tanner broke on the second turn and was third. The time was 1:18.

The third heat of the 3:00 pace was won by Little Midget, who went the half in 1:15 1/4. Massey made another good drive with Jo Joe, but the handsome fellow proved unsteady and just as he was overhauling Little Midget on the third turn went up and the heat and race went to Little Midget. Jo Joe was second and Little Tanner was third.

3:00 pace—Summary:
Little Midget 1 1
Jo Joe 2 2
Little Tanner 3 3
Time—1:14 1/4, 1:18, 1:16.

2:30 PACE.

The second race was the 2:30 pace with Bessie C. (Woods) holding the pole; Hal Askev (Sibert) second and Cherry Blossom (DeFreitas) third.

It required seven starts to get the field of three away, as Bessie C. had acted badly, and when the word was given Bessie C. was in a bad gait and did not settle until the first turn, and by that time Hal Askev and Cherry Blossom were far in the lead. Cherry Blossom broke on the second turn and Hal Askev went into the lead and was five lengths to the good and was coming nicely until the stretch was reached, when he went into a standstill break. Cherry Blossom, meanwhile, was coming strong and went by Hal Askev and under the wire with the heat by three lengths. Hal Askev was second and Bessie C. third. The time was 1:10 1/2.

In the second heat of the 2:30 pace the horses got a splendid start and went to the back stretch evenly bunched. Bessie C. went into the lead in the middle of the back stretch, but it was only for a minute as the but it was only for a minute, as the bay mare broke. Cherry Blossom also broke, but soon settled and overhauled Bessie C. Hal Askev was coming strong and passed Cherry Blossom. Hal Askev was gaining when the turn into the home stretch was reached, when he made a bad break and Sibert pulled Cherry Blossom under the wire an easy winner. Bessie C. was third. The time was 1:10. Delaney drove Bessie C. this time in place of Huffaker.

The third heat proved a victory for Hal Askev, who went the distance without a skip or break and came home in 1:13 Hal, passing Cherry Blossom half way down the home stretch, and forcing the honest fellow into a break. Bessie C. was hobbled in this heat and came home a poor third.

Fourth heat—They got off the second time down and after passing at the third turn Cherry Blossom fell back and Hal Askev. Bessie C. made a pretty run down the back stretch, but at the turn into the home stretch Cherry Blossom overtook them and when just ready to overhaul the leader broke again, setting him back to second place, Hal Askev winning by about two lengths. Time—1:12 1/4.

Fifth heat—The fifth heat was attended with considerable excitement, as Bessie C., J. W. Woods' horse, stumbled and fell in the last half of the back stretch, although no one was hurt. The three horses got off on the second time down and Cherry Blossom and Hal Askev held down the back stretch well together, but about the center Cherry Blossom broke, letting Hal Askev ahead by a good lead. While coming into the home stretch Hal Askev became excited by the fall of Bessie C. and made a bad break, not getting onto his feet again until nearly at the wire. Cherry Blossom won the heat by several lengths. Time—1:14 1/2.

As Bessie C. was coming into the third turn she stumbled and fell, breaking a shaft of the cart and slightly skinning both hind legs. The driver, Pat Miller, was thrown several feet, but was not hurt.

2:30 pace—Summary:
Cherry Blossom 1 1 2 1
Hal Askev 2 2 1 2
Bessie C. 3 3 3 3
The time on the different heats was:
1:16 1/4, 1:18, 1:12 1/4, 1:14 1/2.

FREE-FOR-ALL PACE.

The free-for-all pace was the anticipated event of the afternoon. Vandeventer (W. A. Masters) drew the pole, Big Billy (M. Anderson) was second, Buck Allen (Lohman) was third and Diamond Wilkes (J. W. Woods & Co.) was fourth. After many trials they finally got off in a bunch, but at the half-quarter Vandeventer pulled out steadily; Big Billy broke and the remaining three made a pretty race down the back stretch. Half way down the back stretch Diamond Wilkes pulled up close to Vandeventer and on the whirl into the home stretch it seemed would easily overtake the leader, but a bad break forced him back to third place, and Buck Allen made a brilliant dash, closing on Vandeventer, but scoring second place by about a length behind Vandeventer. Time—1:05 1/4.

Second heat—The second heat proved an exciting race. Diamond Wilkes came into the heat in a lame condition and after the fourth attempt to get off had to give up and quit the race. The three horses got off in fairly good shape and from the very start it was quite evident that it would lie between Vandeventer and Buck Allen. The horses were close together until well down the back stretch, when Buck Allen pulled narrowly in the lead and Vandeventer made it still easier for Buck by going up in the air. It was then an easy race for the latter and he finished about four lengths ahead. The time was 1:07.

Third heat—In the third heat the horses got off the first time and at the first turn Buck Allen pulled quickly ahead, while Big Billy and Vandeventer both went off their feet. Buck Allen obtained a good lead down the back stretch, and although Vandeventer came on strong, he could not overtake the horse and lost by several lengths to Buck Allen, who pulled under the wire in 1:07 1/4.

Fourth heat—In this heat Big Billy was drawn and the race left to Buck Allen and Vandeventer. It was an exciting tussle for the wire, but Vandeventer held steady all the way around and came in first. Time—1:07 1/2.

On account of darkness it was found impossible to finish the race and the fifth heat will decide the race this afternoon at 1:30 o'clock.

Free-for-all pace—Summary:
Buck Allen 2 1 1 2
Vandeventer 1 2 2 1
Big Billy 4 3 3 3
Diamond Wilkes 3 4 0 0
To be finished to day at 1:30 p. m.

2:30 TROT.

The fourth race was the 2:30 trot and entries were made by Cora J. (Frank Lohman); Watch Out (J. L. Rutherford); Little Irene (C. M. Corrington). They made a fast bunch and offered a fine article in the racing line. Watch Out drew the pole, with Cora J. second.

The horses got off well the first time down and made a pretty run around the course. The heat was won by Watch Out, and the same horse also took the second heat. Darkness made it impossible to finish and the remaining heats will be run this afternoon.

2:30 trot—Summary:
Watch Out 1 1
Cora J. 2 2
Little Irene 3 3
Time—1:10, 1:11.

RUNNING RACE.

A running race had been provided to close the day's sport and the horses were on the ground, but it had become so dark that Dr. Sperry refused to start the horses, claiming that it would be dangerous. John Clary, the president of the association, started the race. Lizzie F. (Ruble); Gypsy Daisy (Ruble); and Divernon (Votmeier) were the en-

Democratic appeals for the labor vote are based on the hope that the American workman has forgotten what happened in 1893.

The Republican party believes in reciprocity that will benefit the country. The Democratic party professes to believe in any brand of reciprocity that promises to hoodwink voters at the polls.

After reading the remarks of Judge Parker, H. G. Davis and other Democratic leaders there is no room for doubt that the party still agrees with Hancock in declaring that tariff is a local issue.

Tom Watson declares that the Democrats and Republicans hold the same principals, the only difference being that the Republicans are honest about it while the Democratic professions are based on party expediency.

THE WATER QUESTION

PROPOSITION DISCUSSED AT LENGTH

Many Citizens Present at the Meeting of the City Council and Express Their Views—Action Postponed Until Monday Evening.

The city council met in regular session Thursday evening, when the water proposition recently submitted by Messrs. Mackey and Gardner, of New York city, was the principal subject considered. Many citizens quite generally representing the business and professional men of Jacksonville were present and were called upon to express their views on the advisability of passing the proposed ordinance.

The speeches of nearly all the gentlemen favored taking advantage of the present opportunity offered of getting a supply of pure water from the sand beds of the Illinois river and of making an agreement between the city and the gentlemen back of the enterprise.

The members of the council then discussed the matter informally and finally decided to postpone action until Monday evening, when a special meeting will be held.

It was suggested that in the meantime the members of the ordinance committee and the members of the water committee and the city attorney get together and consider the ordinance in detail so as to save time when the council next convened. After the council adjourned it was decided that the above named committees and the Messrs. Mackey and Gardner would meet in the office of the city attorney Monday morning.

THE PROCEEDINGS.
The council met in regular session Thursday evening, with all present except Ald. Hildreth; Mayor Davis in the chair.

A petition for the extension of Sherman street was referred to the water committee.

Invitation of President Barnes, of Illinois college, to the council to join in the parade Sept. 23, was accepted.

Ald. Kennedy, of the building committee, reported he had gone to Mr. Carter for figures on replacing the wall of the old engine house on West Morgan street. The gentleman was present and submitted plans and specifications.

Ald. Moore suggested a new front. Ald. Kennedy thought it too much expense.

Ald. Vaughn thought it might as well be put in as it was partly out.

Ald. Goveia gave his reasons for opposing. He thought it was money thrown away.

Ald. Cobb agreed.

Ald. Cobb said the front was out and the side walls mostly down, and a new front seemed necessary.

Ald. Cobb moved to refer the matter to the building committee and get figures on the two plans.

Mr. Carter said it would have to be decided soon, so as to connect the new wall with the one he was building.

Ald. Goveia said an independent front was practicable.

The motion to refer prevailed.

Ald. Vaughn read a report from the committee to whom was referred the water ordinance introduced Monday night.

To the Honorable Mayor and Members of the City Council—Gentlemen: Your committee to whom was referred an ordinance introduced at a called meeting of this council held Sept. 12, entitled "An Ordinance Providing for a Supply of Water to the City of Jacksonville, Illinois," etc., would respectfully report as follows:

1. The source of the proposed water supply is not definitely stated.

2. The quantity of the water to be supplied is not stated with sufficient certainty; the authority is not named which is to decide "the requirements of the city of Jacksonville," nor will amount of water furnished during the last ten years of the franchise be increased without thereby extending franchise at least twenty years.

3. The use of the streets and other property of the city should at least be under the partial control of the city council. The use of the Morgan lake property is not sufficiently secured to the city.

4. The time when the present plant vests in the grantees, the time when the grantees commences to derive revenue from present plant is not definitely and clearly stated.

5. We are not prepared to say that the rates proposed should be approved; meters should be furnished where used at the expense of the grantees.

6. The terms upon which the city can purchase plant at the end of the thirty years are open to question.

7. We are not prepared to endorse the payment of $40 per year for each fire hydrant in use.

8. We do not approve the levying of a tax by this council for the next thirty years, even if we had the power to pass tax levies for future councils.

9. The proposed bond in our judgment should be larger and should be either a surety company bond or signed by local men.

10. Section 15 is indefinite and leaves too large a loophole in the matter of construction.

11. The city council should have the right to order mains laid where it deems necessary.

12. This council should not presume to force the people by legislation to use water from grantees.

13. There is no penalty, or clause of reversion, in case that in the future grantees should fail to continue to perform their contract to furnish water.

14. For these reasons, and because of the importance of the proposed legislation to ourselves and our posterity, and because of the magnitude of the proposition, your committee would recommend that no definite action be taken by this council at this meeting, but that it be discussed and lay over for future action that we (the council) may digest its terms and full meaning, that our citizens may do the same and that we may thus decide wisely the important question before us.

The Ordinance Committee—

J. Bart Johnson.
L. O. Vaughn.

The Water Committee—

Anthony Kennedy.

The mayor said it was just to the gentlemen present to hear the ordinance read and to permit Messrs. Mackey and Gardner to be heard, and also some of the large number of visitors on hand. He also called for the reading of the bond, which was done.

Mayor Davis said the question was, is the bond good, and are the signers responsible. He had taken means through John A. Ayers, president of Ayers' National bank, to learn the facts regarding the sureties, and was certain they were amply good and in addition he read several letters he had received regarding Messrs. Mackey and Gardner, and they were fully endorsed by responsible financiers who had known them a considerable length of time.

The clerk then read the ordinance already published.

The mayor said it was due Messrs. Mackey and Gardner to tell how he became acquainted with them. When the Mayhew ordinance was adopted he had taken the greatest pains to learn the will of the people regarding it. Some said the company was getting too much and has since. Mr. Mayhew had tried his best to float his bonds and failed, and the mayor had been busy corresponding with different ones regarding our water works. He tried to find people who might be interested in the matter of water. He had told Messrs. Mackey and Gardner that it was useless to come without a bond. This document was now on hand. He felt water was of the greatest importance. Had the city the money he would be favorable to have the works built by the city or home capital, but it was not. All who have the city's artesian water know what it means. The water we have is not fit for use and he felt a good part of the city wells should be closed. This measure was one of great importance and he would gladly turn over the city works to any reliable company who would give us good water. No one believed the city would ever be able to get it with its own means. The ordinance should be carefully considered, section by section. There were some minor changes he would suggest. After hearing from Messrs. Mackey and Gardner the ordinance should be carefully considered.

Mr. Mackey said in part:

"A few weeks since Mr. Gardner came to me and presented his proposition, and after considering it I felt money could be secured if a suitable ordinance could be passed. We came out here and the mayor told us to come with a bond and proposition. Mr. Mayhew could not get money on the ordinance you had passed for him. The bonds might be called for at various times. The fire plug rental was too low. Nearby cities with far cheaper plants pay much more than $40 a year. Some lay stress on giving up the present plant. We are required to keep it in good shape and lay out a great sum in getting water from the river. Hardly a plant about you has cost what this will and all pay more for hydrants. In my own place, with gravity pressure, they pay $45 a year. There, too, their supply has given out. Theoretically, the water given out and they must do something like what you are doing. We must spend a large amount of money to be able to supply water needed in case of emergency. You must do as you like. We supposed you wanted plenty of good water and not being able to get it you had to go to others. We are not getting a very fine bargain. We do hope for an increased number of consumers when we get good water. One gentleman told me he was paying really $50 yearly for water from all sources, while we would supply him for $24, and we would hope to bring the works to a paying basis. Mr. Mayhew couldn't sell his bonds because he couldn't convince people he could make his works pay. If I hadn't supposed you wanted water and was satisfied with the Mayhew ordinance, I would not have come out here. It is to our interest to put in a first class plant. I have been treated with kindness here. We are not adventurers and do not want to do anything crooked. We don't care for the clause about future levies. We do want a chance to put up the right kind of works. As for the bond, the sum is the same named in the Mayhew measure. We don't want anything in the ordinance that is not fair and straight. We regret the delay. Had we had a contract sooner we would have been at work. We are here to do your bidding, and if you can't see your way clear to let us install a first class plant it is of no use to go on. I have no reflection on any one if the ordinance is not passed. We are not here as adventurers, but as two gentlemen for a fair business transaction."

CITY COUNCIL

Mr. Gardner—Regarding Morgan lake: It has been stricken out.

Ald. Kennedy—Where would you get water in case of emergency?

Mr. Gardner—We might have to use the lake a day while our works were being repaired.

Mr. Mackey replied at length and suggested that the clause had been put in at the request of persons in Jacksonville, and if the council did not like it, leave it out, or put in something else. It was not the intention to use the water from Morgan lake at all.

Ald. Vaught expressed the opinion that the object of this meeting partly was to get an expression of the people who are here to night as to the advisability of passing this particular ordinance. Ald. Vaught said he was ready to vote for the ordinance provided it was the sense of the citizens generally that this ordinance was the one they wanted granted.

Mayor Davis thought the suggestion of Ald. Vaught was a good one and called upon Dr. Carl E. Black.

Dr. Black said in part: "We have no water in Jacksonville suitable for domestic or manufacturing purposes. People who want to protect their health have to buy their drinking water from outside of the city because we have neither well water or city water which is fit to use. We should, I feel, hail any proposition that will bring good water to the city. As to the legality of the ordinance and its technical features I have nothing to say. The present proposition appeals to me and I feel favorable toward it and believe that the best interests of our city will be served by adopting this proposition, after making such technical alterations as will safeguard and legalize the proposition."

Dr. Thompson was called and stated that he thought any movement that would bring a good, wholesome supply of water to the city should be encouraged. He felt that the sand banks of the Illinois river bottoms furnished an inexhaustible supply of water. He had lived in its locality for many years.

Dr. Goodrick said he had not investigated the proposition thoroughly, but had made a few figures and felt that the present proposition was going to be an expensive one for the city.

Dr. J. W. Hairgrove was very much in favor of the present proposition or some proposition that would bring a good supply of water to the city. "I would go farther than the mayor and condemn not half of the wells of the city, but all of them. I feel that the health of the community would be immeasurably increased by securing a pure supply of water. Such a supply would be a great boon to the city in many ways. I should like to see the proposition go through and feel that the citizens are generally in favor of it. We can't get good water without paying for it and I favor giving the investors a chance."

Dr. T. J. Pitzer stated that the quality of the water found at the Illinois river was the best available in central Illinois. As to its quantity there is no question of it in my mind. As to this particular proposition on the face of it, I feel that it is a fair proposition. I believe we would not go amiss if the council adopts it."

Dr. P. L. Brown—"I favor the best water we can get. I think the river water is the best we can secure and favor the present proposition."

Mr. Stephen Capps—I came here to learn to night and I want to understand clearly the increase in expenditure. From the city's standpoint I would like to know more about the increase of expenditure. My mind is not fully made up on the proposition.

Col. E. C. Kreider stated he had been a member of the council twelve years ago and the water question was up at that time, and he had not changed his opinion in regard to it. Our present supply of water is about as poor as it can be. "I favor the Illinois river water proposition and am very much interested in Mr. Mackey's proposition and his statement this evening. I feel that he has shown a spirit of liberality in the proposition submitted. I look upon the proposition as favorable."

Father Crowe—"Without being irreverent, I feel that next to an increase of God's grace in the city we need a good supply of pure water. Some raise the question that home capitalists ought to get together and build the plant. I say we want foreign capital to come in here. We want water, and the only place to get it is the Illinois river. If we get it we will stand out as a city of energy and purpose among the cities of the state, and if the members of the council want a place in the niches of fame, let them pass this ordinance."

Ex-Ald. Newman said that two years ago two gentlemen called upon him and said they wanted to interest him in the Illinois river proposition. "I introduced an ordinance on the subject later. The last vote I cast in this council was against the river proposition because it included Morgan lake and seventy acres of ground. If we are going to get water from the river I see no good in having the supply of Morgan lake drawn upon even in an emergency." Quoting from a sermon he heard at the Baptist church last Sunday, Mr. Newman referred to the "Pearl of Great Price," and said good water for Jacksonville was the "Pearl of Great Price" among the present needs of the city. It was the business of the council to guard the interests of the city in securing the water, but not the water.

Eli McLaughlin—Jacksonville has long been called "The Athens of the West" and if we want to continue in that proud fame we want to meet this great pressing need. I admired Father Crowe's remarks and I endorse every word he said.

Dr. Harker was called upon and said: "I think there can be no question as to the answer that any intelligent citizen of Jacksonville would give to the proposition. I am satisfied the Illinois river is the only source of an adequate supply. I feel that these gentlemen have made a proposition that I did not think any company of gentlemen would undertake. I feel that if anything is done to prevent this proposition of securing pure water for the city that the city authorities will miss a great opportunity for doing a great good to the city. Representing the educational interests of the city, I feel that pure water in Jacksonville would make it as easy to bring 1000 students to the city as 300."

Robert Cassell favored the proposition.

F. J. Andrews—I have lived here since 1890, but water has been the crying need ever since and I think the time and opportunity has come to secure it. I have the utmost confidence in the gentlemen promoting this proposition and favor it heartily.

Mr. Fay—"I don't know whether I am fit to appear before you or not. The water I used to wash my face this morning when I got up was so black that I had to go to the kitchen to get it off, and I don't know whether I did a good job. I have talked with the gentlemen who present this proposition and I like the business-like manner of their appearance and the straightforward way in which they have offered their proposition. If there are any clauses in the ordinance that need correction, correct them. If there are any questions regarding using the water of Morgan lake, see what they are and make the changes needed. Dr. Harker says that it will be as easy to bring 1000 students here as 300 if we have pure water, and he speaks from the standpoint of a man who has built up a successful institution. I hope that a satisfactory arrangement can be made with these gentlemen and that they will be benefited as well as ourselves. It would be a great calamity at this time to let this opportunity slip by—to fail to make satisfactory arrangements between these gentlemen and the city."

Fred L. Sharpe—"We have no water supply. We need one. The Illinois river is the only source of an adequate supply. As to the matter in a business-like manner and make a proposition that is fair to both parties and that will bring us water."

J. A. Obermeyer endorsed every statement that had been made in favor of the present proposition. "We have had two water famines since I have lived here. We need just such a supply of water as is here proposed."

John A. Ayers—"I say to you most cheerfully and heartily that this proposition should have your careful consideration. I favor it. As to the standing of these gentlemen, I am willing to go on the bond with them. I feel this is a great opportunity for Jacksonville and that we ought to take advantage of it."

D. M. Howe asked the council to be liberal in the matter. "We need water, and I am selfish in this matter to some extent. I need good water for my business, that of laundry. To day to get my water I have to use wells. I say be liberal and help this thing along without too much quibbling."

Edward Whitmer favored the proposition and spoke briefly.

The mayor then extended a general invitation to any one present to speak.

Ald. Vaught moved the adoption of the report of the committee to whom the ordinance was referred at last meeting.

Ald. Kennedy seconded the motion.

Ald. Moore stated that he was a member of the water committee, but that he did not sign the report, as he was not in favor of all the provisions. He thought that the ordinance ought to be taken up section by section and if possible pass it to night.

Ald. Vaught raised a point of order and asked to have a ruling on his motion.

Ald. Vaught moved adjournment until Monday night.

Ald. Cobb moved to take the ordinance up section by section and pass it to night.

Ald. Moore seconded the motion.

Ald. Babb wanted to wait until Monday night.

Ald. Johnson wanted more time to consider the matter, although he thought it was fair.

Ald. Moore favored passing the ordinance to night. There were only two points at issue. One was to get water from the river, but if we don't get it from the river then the city gets its plant back.

Ald. Tiekner thought the matter should be considered a little further before action.

Ald. McGinnis favored going ahead to night.

Ald. Higgins, Doolin and Goelva favored postponing action until Monday night.

Ald. Kennedy thought more time ought to be taken.

Mr. Mackey asked to be allowed to say a word. He was willing to remain here until Monday or longer if necessary, but he did not care to make another trip after he returned east. He would be glad to act upon the suggestion of Ald. Vaught and would meet the members of the ordinance committee, the water committee and city attorney at any time with an attorney and go over the ordinance. He wanted to have the ordinance when finally presented for action an agreement that would be mutually satisfactory.

The motion of Ald. Vaught that the council take the matter up Monday night carried.

Ald. Cobb called up the matter of the Illinois college celebration and moved that in honor of the occasion the city council appropriate $25 for the decorating of the electric arches and the pagoda in the college colors, blue and white.

The mayor stated that if there was no objection that it would be in order for the finance committee to make the necessary expenditure.

Ald. Kennedy raised the question of the bonds for the paving contracts of John Cherry. None had been filed to his knowledge. The clerk was instructed to look into the matter.

The mayor stated that Mr. Clark, a representative of the Signalphone company, said the company could make a connection with the court house bell for a fire alarm and that such arrangements could be made with the county commissioners. There would be forty call boxes in the city when the new system was installed and it would be possible to so arrange the connection that in case of fire the bell would strike the number of the box from which the alarm is turned in. For instance, if the alarm was sent in from box 43, the bell would strike four strokes and then rest and then strike three strokes. This would be repeated three times, giving every citizen a chance to determine the exact location of the fire, as cards would be furnished to all citizens giving the number and location of the different boxes.

Ald. Vaught moved the matter be referred to the fire committee with power to act. Carried.

On motion of Ald. Vaught the council then adjourned.

Mrs. Haskell, Worthy Vice-Templar, Independent Order Good Templars, of Silver Lake, Mass., tells of her cure by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—Four years ago I was nearly dead with inflammation and ulceration. I endured daily untold agony, and life was a burden to me. I had used medicines and washes internally and externally until I made up my mind that there was no relief for me. Calling at the home of a friend, I noticed a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My friend endorsed it highly, and I decided to give it a trial to see if it would help my condition. I was in bad condition, and I used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nearly five months before I was cured, but what a change, from despair to happiness, from misery to the delightful exhilarating feeling health always brings. I would not change back for a thousand dollars, and your Vegetable Compound is a grand medicine."

"I wish every sick woman would try it and be convinced."—Mrs. IDA HASKELL, Silver Lake, Mass. Worthy Vice-Templar, Independent Order of Good Templars.—$5000 forfeit if original of this letter proving genuineness cannot be shown.

THE DISCOVERER OF SEVEN BARKS

Was, thirty-five years ago, one of Germany's foremost physicians, besides he was a celebrated botanist and chemist. His discoveries were many and invariably successful. Perhaps his most important discovery was that of the great and popular preparation called, Seven Barks, extracted from bark of a specially grown Myrtaceae plant. This bark grows in seven layers, each division possessing wonderful individual curative values. One acts as a gentle cathartic, another as an alterative, the third as a diuretic, the fourth as an expectorant—while the other three layers produce wonderful, upbuilding tonic elements.

Most All Disease

Emanates from the drainage system (the stomach, bowels, liver and kidneys). When one of these organs becomes clogged or congested the others naturally suffer in sympathy, and it requires a thorough cleansing and the restoration of all of them before each can again fully perform its natural function.

Seven Barks

Contain nature-giving principles that will effect immediate relief and, in good time, a permanent cure of all such disorders. One 50-cent bottle will demonstrate its phenomenal value.

Talk with your druggist about it. He will back up all we claim. If you are unable to spare 50 cents for a bottle, write a postal and we will send you a bottle free.

Stomach Paralysis

Dyspepsia or indigestion, properly named, is Paralysis of the Stomach.

When you have water-brash, feel sick at the stomach, have gas or wind on it, or feel as though you had a ball or heavy weight in the pit of the stomach after eating, and the nerves and muscles of that organ cease to act and digest your food, that stoppage in the process of digestion, to it properly, is Paralysis of the Stomach, and should be treated as such. It is perfectly folly to assist the stomach with dyspepsia remedies and stimulants to dissolve the undigested food. You may get relief, but at the next meal you suffer again. The proper treatment is to build up the worn out muscles and nerves of the stomach so that it can do its own work without assistance, and not only digest the food you eat to-day but to-morrow and forever after. The Nerve Food and Liver Food, which have an immediate action on the nerves and muscles, that control digestion. The price of the Blood and Nerve Food, 50 cents; the Liver Food 25 cents. Book free.

RAILROAD NEWS NOTES

Alton Agents Must Now Forward Daily Crop Reports—Change in Time of St. Louis Passenger Accommodation—Other Items

Sam Walker, car inspector for the Wabash, was removed to the Wabash hospital at Decatur Thursday morning on No. 4. His place here will be taken temporarily by Frank Koenig, of Springfield.

Wabash engine 133, drawing local 71, split a side rod Wednesday and was taken to the Springfield shops for repairs. The 764, a big compounder from the St. Louis division, is being used on the run, and keeps the "pigeons" on the jump all the time.

M. DeFreitas engineer of Wabash engine 27, drawing a through freight, was taken to the Springfield hospital Sunday, very ill of typhoid fever. His condition was so grave that he could not be removed to the company hospital at Decatur. Mr. DeFreitas formerly lived in this city, but has made his home in Springfield for several years.

Colonist rates were in force on the roads yesterday, and the usual number took advantage of them, the traffic being about evenly divided among the different roads.

Commencing with yesterday the Alton officials have introduced a system of crop reports to be sent to the chief dispatchers at Bloomington and Kansas City by wire daily from certain stations along the road where there is extensive corn acreage. In the past, the various agents have been required to forward weekly reports of the crop conditions, but the idea of sending daily reports by wire is something new. The reports must be sent in by 7 a. m. each day so that a statistical report can be made up by the chief dispatcher for the information of general Manager Goodnow, showing the situation for the entire road. The officials are looking for an immense corn movement and if the crop is to be heavy they will be forced to increase equipment and power. The present outlook is most favorable for a record breaking crop unless frost comes early and injures the grain. The railroad facilities will be tested to move it. The new order does not apply to every station on the road, but includes some twenty on each division.

The change in time on the C. & A. which will take place Sunday, will not seriously affect the local business. The only change of importance here will be in the Jacksonville-St. Louis accommodation. The train now arrives from St. Louis at 10:35, but under the new card will arrive at 11:50 p. m., leaving St. Louis at 8:35 p. m., instead of 7 p. m. as now. The regular fall schedule will go into effect on Oct. 2, as already announced.

WORLD'S BIG BATTLES

That Just Fought at Liaoyang a Record Maker.

BEATS THOSE OF NAPOLEONIC ERA

To Find Its Parallel in Numbers of Men Engaged One Must Go Back to the Days of Attila and Attila, of Xerxes and Genghis Khan.

Never in the history of modern warfare has there been a battle between armies of a greater magnitude than those that have been struggling for supremacy upon the Manchurian plain about Liaoyang. If the numbers ascribed to the combatants are correct, says the New York Tribune. To find a parallel to the numbers of Japanese and Russians one has to turn back to the days of Attila the Goth, Attila the Hun, Xerxes the Persian or Genghis Khan the Mongol. These, however, led untrained and undisciplined nations rather than armies. While the army with which Napoleon started for Moscow, numbering over 400,000 men, exceeded in total that of either combatant force at Liaoyang, no battle of the Napoleonic era rivaled the present struggle. The Franco-Prussian war offers no rival, while Gettysburg, Chancellorsville and the desperate battles in the Wilderness, from the Rapidan to Petersburg, in the civil war seem inconsiderable in comparison.

Two conflicts in the nineteenth century, however, both in the magnitude of the contest and in their actual physical surroundings, suggest the struggle in Manchuria. One was the battle of Lepel, where Napoleon endured his first great defeat and the grande armee its first rout. It was waged for a week about the old city of Lepel, in Saxony. Russians, Swedes, Prussians, Austrians and numberless contingents of smaller states overwhelmed the French in the battle, which is still known as the "combat of nations." In the several battles of Lepel 150,000 French and over 280,000 allies were engaged. The battles were fought for several days on several fields, from Oct. 16 to 18, 1813. In the end, the French were captured, more were drowned in the untimely destruction of a bridge across the Elbe, and the total French loss in killed, wounded and captured exceeded 78,000, while the allies lost more than 53,000.

The other example of warfare about a city situated like Liaoyang was the struggle about Metz in 1871, when the French, under Bazaine, were forced back into the city by a flanking movement similar to that practiced by the Japanese. Marshal Bazaine was driven back from the road to Paris and finally captured. In the battle of Metz, the French numbered nearly 150,000, while the Prussians exceeded 200,000. The French loss amounted to 14,000, the Prussian to more than 21,000.

As a direct consequence of this fight Bazaine was penned up in Metz, as many experts have expected Kuropatkin would be in Liaoyang, and two months later surrendered over 173,000 men, the entire regular army of France, together with a vast number of cannon and huge supplies. The battle of Sedan, which ended similarly, was not dissimilar in geographical conditions, and the French army under Marshal MacMahon, with Napoleon III. by his side, was surrounded and captured after a bloody battle lasting a single day. Here Von Moltke and the Prussian army succeeded in driving the French into the valley of the Meuse, surrounded on three sides by heights occupied by Germans, and on the fourth by the Belgian frontiers. The numbers engaged here were smaller than at Metz.

The civil war presents few instances of huge numbers meeting in battle. At Gettysburg less than 175,000 were engaged on both sides, while in the battles of the Wilderness, where fought the largest number of men in the war, the Confederates numbered only 62,000, while Grant, with 120,000, a total less than half the number believed to have fought at Liaoyang. The Confederates lost exceeded 15,000, and that of the Union forces 18,000. Unlike the other battles mentioned, it was a drawn fight, both forces leaving the field soon after to fight at Spotsylvania. Sherman, in his march to the sea, had little more than 75,000 men with him.

In the Napoleonic era, although the armies were larger than those of the previous century and far greater than in our civil war, the numbers were comparatively small. At Austerlitz, the most famous of the earlier victories of Napoleon, the French had only 70,000, while the Russian and Austrian force did not exceed 85,000, 35,000 of whom were killed, wounded or captured in the struggle. The French lost less than a quarter of this number. At Wagram Napoleon had 160,000, his allied opponents only 110,000, and although the French prevailed, the losses on either side were about 30,000.

At Borodino, the bloodiest battle of the nineteenth century, 125,000 French defeated 132,000 Russians, the former losing over 25,000, the latter over 30,000. Waterloo, although the most decisive battle of the last century, was fought for the larger part of the day between 72,000 French under Napoleon and 60,000 British, Belgians and Dutch under Wellington. Late in the afternoon Blucher brought up one division after another of his force until over 60,000 Prussians joined in the fight, and Napoleon's army was destroyed. The French lost 32,000 men in this battle, the allies 22,000.

TOO LATE.

A refreshment room at Earl's Court, Enter Mrs. and Miss Ormerod. As they pass one of the tables a young man starts violently, half rises and takes off his hat. Mrs. Ormerod eyes him with an imperious stare, and Miss Ormerod looks fixedly at the wall beyond him. The young man hastily resumes his seat. When they have found seats at a safe distance and ordered refreshments, the ladies give vent to their indignation.

"Well, Laura, of the impudent!" "Mr. Marston never was noted for his modesty, mother."

"I should think not. But London is the place to bring him to his senses. He'll soon find his level here."

"I wonder what he is doing? He seems well dressed."

"Counter jumping or shoplifting, I should imagine. That's all he's fit for."

"He could wait divinely."

"Then he had one redeeming virtue. Perhaps he teaches dancing."

"As the band outside ceases playing, sundry people saunter in."

"Why, there's Sir William. I do hope he'll see us."

"Why doesn't the man look this way?"

"If he isn't talking to Mr. Marston! How d-d-d-d that young man must feel!"

"Perhaps he is ordering a new coat."

"Or, more likely, complaining about the old one."

"I hope he is arranging for some dancing lessons. He waits so horribly."

"You could forgive that if he were only good looking."

"At any rate, he is very good natured."

"Or he wouldn't be talking to young Marston."

"At last he sees us."

The ladies, bow gracefully. Sir William walks across to them.

"Now, whoever would have thought of meeting you here?"

"How badly expressed, Sir William! An unexpected pleasure would have sounded so much better."

"I sit corrected, I see. Are they good?"

"Very bad. But we are pretending it's summer."

"By the way, Laura and I are quite dying to know what you have in common with Mr. Marston."

"A very great deal, Mrs. Ormerod."

"Costs and waistcoats?"

"Dancing?"

"Really, I ought to have had an ice, for without one I see no connection. You know Marston, then?"

"He was a clerk in father's office. We did know him, mother."

"Certainly, my dear. Sir William will understand the degree of intimacy that indicates."

Sir William looks from one to the other in a doubtful, questioning manner and then says gravely:

"Mr. Marston is a friend of mine."

"How extremely condescending of you to put it that way! Mr. Marston would be flattered if he heard you."

"I fail to see why."

"Look at your different positions in life. You are a man of title."

"And Marston is a man of genius, a somewhat scarcer article."

"Why, what has he done?"

"Have you not read 'Waiting'?"

"Of course. Some one sent me a copy. I never found out who. But that was by 'Godfrey Newcome'."

"Quite so—Marston's pseudonym. Then I know you have seen his play, for I was in your box at the Lyceum. On Tuesday, wasn't it?"

"Did Mr. Marston write 'My Lady Disdainful'?"

"Indeed he did, Mrs. Ormerod. I am surprised you did not know it."

Miss Ormerod appears lost in thought. Then she sees Marston rising to go. She turns quickly to Sir William.

"Do me a favor. Tell Mr. Marston I wish to renew our old friendship."

"Delighted!"

He walks after Marston.

"Marston, an old friend wishes to speak to you—Miss Ormerod."

"Does she? A pause. "You remember what I told you about that girl in the country who said she would give her answer when I was famous?"

"I told her she would have to send for me then, as I should never ask again. You have just brought her summons."

"The deuce I have!"

"She has only just learned that I am—er—a success?"

"Not a whisper of it till I told her."

"I thought so. She cut me dead a quarter of an hour ago. It's too late now, old man. Tell her what you like, only don't hurt her unnecessarily."

"All right, sonny. I understand. Wait for me outside."

Rejoicing the ladies.

"Mr. Marston wishes me to say he would have been delighted to have had your message a quarter of an hour earlier, but as it is—"

"Well, Sir William, as it is?"

"As it is, Marston and I are returning to town together. Good afternoon, ladies!"—Sketch.

He Wanted a Rest.

"Yes," says the meek looking man at the crowded summer hotel, "I brought my wife here for a rest."

"For a rest?" asks the friend who knows what an excellent home the man has.

"Yes, and for comfort."

"You came away from that fine, big house of yours, with all the wide spread of lawn about it and all those beautiful flowers, and cooped yourselves up in a 0 by 8 room here and call it rest and comfort?"

"Sure," says the meek looking man—"sure! Down here I don't have to push a lawn mower or sprinkle flowers all the time!"—Chicago Tribune.

CAMPAIGN BANNERS.

Their Cost and the Method of Making Them.

PRESENT NOMINEES EASY TO PAINT

Portrait Artist Says He Can Make Eight Pictures of Any of the Presidential or Vice Presidential Candidates in a Day—Twelve Men Needed to Construct One Banner.

"I can crack out eight portraits of any of the candidates in one day," remarked the artist in the variegated overalls as he added a touch of color to Mr. Roosevelt's mustache, says the New Orleans Times-Democrat. "Any old kind of copy will do. A picture clipped from a magazine often serves if a photograph is not easily procurable. One does not have to bother with the lines of the face in making a picture for a campaign banner. So long as it looks the part from the sidewalk the picture passes muster."

The artist went on to explain that the present presidential and vice presidential candidates are especially easy to paint. All have faces with strongly marked characteristics that make it almost impossible for a campaign banner artist to wander from a real resemblance. President Roosevelt, with eyeglasses, round face and low collar, hair parted slightly on the side and a set, determined look, is not a difficult problem for the campaign banner artist.

Fairbanks has a peculiarly high forehead and a beard that is peculiar to himself. Put a Fairbanks beard on almost any face, say the artists of the street banners, and the face will look Fairbanksish. Parker has a judicial face, with no extraordinary lines to bother the painter who counts on turning out eight portraits of the Democratic candidate per day, and Davis, with his pointed white beard, is a blessing to the artist of the campaign variety.

It taxes the energies of twelve men to make one of the campaign banners that are now being hung to the breeze in American cities. Two men prepare the strips on which the lettering is done. Two more attend to the lettering of these strips, painting the names of the clubs or associations ordering the banners, the captions for the portraits and the offices for which the nominees are to contend. Two men work on the centerpieces, the eagle and the shield of the E Pluribus Unum. One man works on the special portraits, and the rest assemble the various parts, sew the strips together at sewing machines or get down on the floor and hand sew them to the netting.

Some of the men employed in the making of the campaign banner are artists who have come into the field by the straight gate, but the majority have climbed over the wall. The former class are made up of graduates from the art schools who find in the great demand for their services during the campaign a more remunerative field than in painting pictures that no one will buy. It is this class that attends to the painting of the portraits of candidates. By working on the same faces day after day these men become so skillful and so quick that they can paint a Roosevelt or a Parker in the dark with their eyes shut, and paint it as true to life as the standard of the campaign banner industry requires.

Some men who arrive at the dignity of special portrait artists without artistic training are those who have passed their apprenticeship in the sign painter's studio. With a natural aptitude for the work they pick up the portrait phase of the campaign banner business and make good money while their less ambitious or less skillful associates are sewing strips or "filling in."

This last is an interesting part of the work of making a campaign banner and explains why these gaudy adjuncts of the political campaign are made so quickly. The letters used on a campaign banner must be of enormous size in order that the voters may readily read the legend intended to appeal to them. It would not pay to employ the real artists to finish off the letters and then hand the paint pot over to one of the "fillers in," who proceeds to make a solid letter of what is but a skeleton when he begins operations. It is the same with the eagles and the shields. One man does the groundwork; another comes along to add the necessary amount of paint to solidify the picture.

Finally when the various strips are dry and have been sewed together by one of the machinists the various parts are assembled to be put together to form the completed banner. The large houses set apart a loft with an extensive floor space for the express use of the men who assemble the banners. Smaller houses usually hire a lot in the vicinity of the place of business. The network on which the banner is placed is spread out on the floor, and the men sit around in various parts of the room, sewing the strips into place. When the strips have been symmetrically fastened into their positions on the netting the banner is ready for hoisting. One of these banners of the average degree of gaudiness will cost about $200. The usual size is about 20 by 80 feet, but some are made as large as 30 by 50 feet.

More than half of Russia's profits from exports come from the sale of grain. The value of exported butter is over $10,000,000 a year; of eggs over $20,000,000.

Long Now With Washington.

Herman Long has signed with the American League Senators. A few years ago such an announcement would have stirred the baseball world, for then Herman was as great a shortstop as the game ever developed. But Herman's wonderful arm of those days is disabled, his batting eye has grown dim and his feet less active, although he still possesses that same good hand for "inside" playing. With no extra infielder to help out in emergencies Herman is a good fellow for Washington to have around.

Jack Doyle's grip on his job with the Philadelphia Nationals is slowly slipping, and the once clever player will likely soon list to the plaudits of the Federal minor league fans.

Table Decoration.

Much prettier and more sensible than the old fashioned enormous center decoration for the table is the new fashion of placing vases as well as candles at the four corners. The middle of the table is occupied by a low dish of flowers, some of the blossoms being merely laid on the cloth. The corner decorations should not be large enough to be in the way.

SILVER MEDAL CONTEST.

The fifth of the silver medal contests being held by the Third ward W. C. T. U., was held Thursday evening at the Christian church. There were seven contestants and all did remarkably well. The judges were H. A. Withee, Rev. R. F. Cressey and Miss Jessie Hucklestep, and they awarded the medal to Miss Minnie Hoffman.

A program of music was given during the intermissions and was greatly enjoyed. The numbers included vocal selections by Miss Marie Finney and Miss Wilma Fanning. Miss Maude McNeil acted as accompanist.

The last of the series of six silver medal contests will be held in Chapin to night, and the gold medal contest will be held in Murrayville during the meeting of the county W. C. T. U., to be held there week after next.

On account of the 75th anniversary of the Illinois College J. Herman has appropriately decorated his show window for the occasion.

REV. J. J. McCABE.

The following from the Dayton (Ohio) Press will be of interest to the friends of Rev. J. J. McCabe in this city:

"Rev. J. J. McCabe, who for six years past has been pastor of Raper M. E. church, has been appointed pastor of the Institutional church at Greenville. Mr. McCabe will have one of the finest churches this side of New York city. It cost about $75,000 and is a handsome structure, seating 2,000, and having a gymnasium and all conveniences for the social life of the church. A deaconess is employed to look after the sick of the church when needed. The congregation numbers about 1100 and the Sunday school has an enrollment of more than 900. The salary is $1,500 a year. Rev. Mr. McCabe will be missed greatly here, but all his members will be glad he has been chosen for so pleasant a field of duty, and their best wishes will go with him."

$24 pays for six months tuition and all books at Brown's night school.

MATRIMONIAL

SMITH-RUSSEL.

The marriage of Rev. Thomas F. Smith, of New York, and Miss Jane L. Russel, of this city, was celebrated at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. William Russel, on Mound avenue, Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. It was a quiet home wedding and only the immediate relatives and friends were present. The ceremony was performed in the west parlor and the solemn and impressive service was said in a most beautiful manner by Rev. James G. Russel, of Beaver City, Neb., a brother of the bride.

The attendants were Miss Isabelle Russel, a sister of the bride, and Mr. David D. Smith, of New York, a brother of the groom.

After the words of hearty congratulation and best wishes had been extended an elegant wedding supper was served.

The Russel home was most beautifully decorated and the colors of gold and white prevailed in the color scheme. The effect was secured by a profusion of asters and marigolds.

The bride is the daughter of one of the oldest and most prominent families in Jacksonville and has been actively identified with the literary and educational circles of the city. She is a young lady of many graces of character and charm of manner that has endeared her to a wide circle of friends.

The groom is the pastor of a large and flourishing Presbyterian church in New York whose present prosperity is due to the effort of its energetic pastor. He is a graduate of Illinois college and for a short time after graduation was a member of the Illinois college faculty as an instructor in English and elocution. Later he completed a theological course in the east and his work in the ministry has been entirely in that locality.

Mr. and Mrs. Smith were the recipients of a large number of handsome presents. They departed on the 8:54 Wabash train and after a wedding trip through the east will be at home in New York city.

Among the guests present from out of the city were: Mrs. Anna Smith, mother of the groom; David D. Smith, brother of the groom, both of New York; Thomas Noyes, of Chicago; Harvey Moore, LaPorte, Ind.; Mrs. Emma Landsen, of Cairo; Miss Margaret Miller, of Springfield; Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Russel and family, of Woodson; Mrs. Sarah Russel, of Woodson, and Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair Russel, of Woodson.

ROGERS-NELSON.

The marriage of Gregory B. Rogers and Miss Emma Nelson was performed by Rev. R. F. Cressey, pastor of the Portuguese Presbyterian church, at the parsonage Thursday evening at 7 o'clock. There were no attendants. Both young people are residents of this city. They will reside on the Shuff farm near Ebenezer church.

SIDLER-SCOTT.

Elmer E. Sidler, of Kansas City, and Miss Anna Scott, of Chapin, were married Wednesday evening at 8 o'clock by Rev. J. A. Johnson, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Phebe Scott, in Chapin. Only immediate relatives were present.

The bride is well known here, having attended the Woman's college; also the Business college.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidler will be at home in Kansas City, Mo., after Oct. 15.

FUNERALS

DUKE.

The funeral of the late Jacob Duke was conducted by Rev. H. Lackey at Bethel A. M. E. church Thursday in the presence of a large audience of sympathetic friends. The choir, with Mrs. John Kirk at the organ, first sang that beautiful hymn, "Come Ye Disconsolate," after which Elder Lackey offered an earnest prayer. "Tis Midnight and On Olive's Brow" was next sung and then the pastor delivered a discourse suitable to the occasion. He dwelt on the life and well known character of the deceased, who had always been an industrious, honest, upright man, true to his friends and faithful to his convictions.

As an intimate friend of thirty-eight years, S. W. Nichols was requested to say something, which he did, telling of his long acquaintance with Mr. Duke and of the unshaken friendship which had always existed between them. He spoke of the early history of the church and the many who had gone to their long reward since the time Mr. Duke came to the city.

"Is It Well With Thy Soul?" and "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" were sung and the remains were borne to Jacksonville cemetery by Messrs. Samuel Bolden, Elijah Hyatt, Joseph Raymond, Eli Nelson, Louis Johnson and Charles Handy. The casket was covered with flowers, brought by many friends.

The colored voters of Jacksonville and Morgan county are requested to meet at Company L armory Friday evening, Sept. 16, for the purpose of organizing a Roosevelt and Deneen Marching club. Good speaking and a good old rousing time is anticipated.
